Dr. Strangelove’s Biden, Blinken and their NATO henchmen and women either are correctly reading the pulse of the world’s current mental, emotional, political, ideological health, or they’re misreading, yet again, like the fascists who came before them in history, the decrepitude of the world body’s unending state of calamity and cataclysm that soon will break out in the madness of WWIII, just as did their predecessor WWI and WWII counterparts. Either human sanity in ukraine somehow, against all odds, will ultimately prevail, or the world will continue to massacre itself and potentially all the rest of us until the final end. Western leaders in international business, trade and commerce know exactly where their actions to endlessly militarily arm the ultra-nationalists, Neo-nazi elements in Ukraine unquestionably will lead.

See this and this.

The spark of the current war in Ukraine began in 2014, but actually began centuries further back in human history with a reoccurring world-wide fascist, Neo-Nazi-movement international commerce and trade that continues to be led and inspired by America’s Neo-Con ultra-nationalists and their allied affiliates in Ukraine and around the world.

The spark of war in Ukraine has turned into yet another of the world’s full-fledged blood baths with a mind all its own. One can feel the intensity and direction of the war slipping out of their control, in spite of the gross billions of taxpayer monies stolen from the American citizenry and the rest of the entire Western World’s citizenry; not to mention the massive amounts of military weaponry that have been willingly paid out by America and its Western allies to the heinous merchants of war for the stockpiles of weaponry, originally amassed for their own nation’s safety and protection; that instead continue to be shipped off to the Ukraine Armed Forces, as has previously been the case in other wars without any popular vote, plebiscite or referendum. It’s always the warmongering leaders of industry and capital who decide such matters.

America's Washington Beltway seems as if forever lost in a Kafkaesque world of Biden and his merry band of Neocon Neo-Nazi's, with the likes of Antony Blinken, Jake Sullivan, Lloyd Austin, Victoria Nuland and casts of tens of thousands, hundreds of thousands or even millions more of their followers and collaborators among the populace who, themselves, look as equally stupefied as their grim-faced, zombie leaders and angry young mad men or women followers remain indifferent to the long chain of all the chaos and mayhem they are the cause of in the world; going back to the birth of America and its long line of: Revolutionary Wars; American Indian Wars; American Civil War; Spanish-American War; WWI, WWII, Korean War; Vietnam War, and now, all the fighting in Ukraine, that one might call The Final War of the World.

The majority of the American public and their NATO allies around the world, seem, as well, as if they've also drunk all the brain-deadening war-laced-Koo-aid; with everyone asleep at the wheel, for all intents and purposes, unaware or indifferent to all their own hard-earned taxpayers monies, that the Americans and their allies need so desperately for their own infrastructure, that instead continue to be used to endlessly fund literally all the stockpiles of war, as well as the infrastructure of Ukrainian society itself; of which untold amounts of monies and weaponry never reach the people or armed combatants themselves because they all are continually being clandestinely siphoned off to war profitters, oligarchs, black-market dealers and politicians. The Corrupt Game of War continues to be played out, while everyone just shrugs their shoulders, shakes their heads and looks the other way, like helpless deer, frozen in the glare of the on-coming lights and the potential grizzly death that awaits them.

After over a year of raging, murderous brutal slaughter of men, women, children and the decimation of whole species of non-human life, the populace and politicians alike still remain ignorant and at sea as to what to do about it; or even if they did they already know their neo-con leaders and governments clearly never have had any exit strategy to end the war other than what they all hope will come with: the sudden assassination of Putin; total collapse of the Russian Empire; a total WWII nuclear end game, and; whatever subsequent fascist rule in the West finally will take over the entire world. Which is why no real serious consideration has ever been given by Biden, the U.S. and NATO to ever: convene peace negotiations, or; sign a peace deal with Russia of any kind through civilized diplomatic negotiations.

Finally, in desperation, to try to save face, they attempted to float the ridiculous phony ploy of turning the war into a so-called frozen conflict; like the stalemate that put a hold on the Korean War that actually never really ended; with over 30,000 US military forces still occupying Camp Humphreys, the world's largest overseas US military base, located near the South Korean capital of Seoul. The Russians summarily laughed that proposal right off of the table and into the trash can of history.

But now the combatants on both sides have begun to hunker down and resort to the ancient primitive strategies of brutal, no holds warfare by trying to assassinate the other's sides leader, with the belief that if you cut off the head of the snake, you ultimately will kill the whole body. But that's old school thinking. There already are too many crazed mad men and women now on both sides, equally prepared to 'push the button of doom' quicker than the next guy.

Meanwhile...

Anne Applebaum, a Polish-American Pulitzer-winning historian, and staff writer for the Atlantic, is a neo-conservative radical like so many in the West who still cling to an old Cold War moral framework that believes all of Russia's financial power and influence should be removed from all the world's political systems. Applebaum has long called for a decisive military action by the West against Russia, and openly advocates for the spilling of Russian blood for what she deems "their murderous actions in Ukraine, and as the only civilized way for the West to show Russia the price they will have to be prepared to pay for hegemony in their part of the world."

See this.

Dr. Strangelove Biden & Dr. Strangelove Blinken, if true to form, will continue to misread the ideological state of today's America's Neo-Con, Neo-Fascist war in Ukraine, in the same way as their predecessors in an earlier century similarly misread their own neo-fascist nazi conditions at the time that ultimately led to World War One, World War Two, the Korean War, Vietnam War, the Cuban Crisis of 1962, and all the other wars since that have followed in Iraq, Syria, Libya, Afghanistan, Iran, South and Central America and Africa.

Biden with his dreams of re-election as America's new lauded "War President"; and Blinken with his own fantasies of world power will continue to misread the same neo-fascist conditions in the same way as their predecessors; blind as before to the decrepitude of the human and planetary body's unending state of calamity and cataclysm that, if not somehow radically changed for the better for all concerned, surely will erupt into the un-holy madness of yet a World War Three of such immense destruction as has never been seen or known before by the ignorant warmongering WWI & WWII predecessors of the past.

Biden and Putin remain locked in an existential moment of truth in the survival both their nations have formerly known in their places of power and hegemony in the world. Biden must reclaim something of America's former unipolar economic, political and military position of greatness and hegemony in the Western World in the face of a rapidly evolving multi-polar reality that is here to stay and will never return America to its former favored position it once knew. While Putin, at all costs, must maintain and renew something of the power and glory of the remnants of yesteryear's once vast Soviet Union empire. At all costs, America and its Western Allies in Ukraine somehow must prevail and completely surround Russia, so as to once and for all hamstring and neutralize its economic and military powers as much as possible.

However, this time the way the world's chessboard has been set up it's what some would call "A Mexican Standoff", until one side or the other bends, breaks or makes a fatal false move. In which case, the standoff will quickly turn into a mutual "Lose, Lose" situation. Until then, the West only knows how to endlessly up the ante by providing Ukraine with more and more of its lethal fire power, while the world sits nervously on the sidelines and apprehensively watches Russia continue to devastate Ukraine's armed forces and ability to function as a nation until the final bitter end; or until the West's ramping up of more and more lethal tanks, jet fighters, tactical nuclear weaponry and guided missiles inevitably sucks the whole world down the rabbit hole of yet another World War III, that this time will be a colossal nuclear one with no winners but merely a lot of sad and sorry losers. But Biden and Blinken already both know by their actions that continually escalate the crisis where the war invariably must lead; which is why the West has never had any other exit strategy.

A Closing Thought

Western leaders pay constant lip-service to the purpose of the war in Ukraine as being to protect and defend the principles of democracy. Yet that time-worn canard of a word, has been so flogged and overused to the point that it represents perhaps one of the biggest propaganda con-job ruses ever to be used as an excuse to kill people or trample over the rights of those one doesn't like. The claim to protect and defend the principles of democracy becomes even more bizarre when used to explain and justify the war in Ukraine

Yet in that same spirit of democracy, peace and the saving of precious lives, for well over a year by now of brutal fighting and slaughter of young and old, Ukrainian and Russian alike, Biden and Blinken have never raised so much as a whimper to call for a ceasefire to at least talk about it all. Neither has Biden or Blinken proposed what exactly the intentions are of the United States and NATO's declared exit strategy to finally end the war, For instance, if and when or ever, there remotely will be any peace negotiations, will consideration be given to revisit the previous Minsk 2 Accord, scuttled by the U.S., Ukraine and NATO? Or; perhaps would the U.S. Ukraine and NATO ever consider making the whole of Ukraine a neutral, non-NATO, non-nuclear buffer zone between Russia and the West? Or still other suggestions about what would be a mutually- acceptable first step exit strategy for both sides?

Up 'til now, the Western strategy to provide Ukraine with bigger, more powerful and vicious killing weaponry represents nothing more than an admission by the U.S. and its NATO allies that they are bankrupt of any other ideas to lessen the hostilities other than kill more Russians, and hopefully Putin himself in the process, until they finally have crushed the Russian will to continue. Translated, this means, "we will support Ukraine for as long as it takes, even to the last dead Ukrainian."

Such a bankrupt primitive strategy has only meant pouring ever bigger, more deadly tanks, fighter jets, tactical nuclear weaponry into Ukraine's war zone, that has but only one exit strategy: Nuclear World War III.

Once this part of the master plan is achieved, according to the ultra-right news media, if Dr. Strangelove Biden and Dr. Strangelove Blinken, and the Applebaum's of the world can ever hope to reclaim America's supreme role and rightful place in the world as the Chief hegemon of Planet Earth, they will then have to do the same thing to China and XI Ping.

This time around, given that Dr. Strangelove Biden and Dr. Strangelove Blinken seem dead set on going down that road. there just doesn't seem to be any other alternative but to go through another World Three and hope against hope that enough of us will come out safe on the other end.

America's Washington Beltway seems, as well, as if forever lost in the same Kafkaesque world of Biden, Blinken and their merry band of Neo Con's, Neo Nazi's, Dr. Strangeloves, and casts of tens, if not hundreds of thousands or even millions of their followers and collaborators among the populace who, themselves, look as equally stupefied and dumb-faced as all their leaders who remain indifferent to the endlessly-long chain of so much chaos and mayhem in the world that one can trace back to the birth of America and its Revolutionary War, American Indian Wars, Civil War, Spanish-American War, WWI, WWII, Korean War, Vietnam War and now, in Ukraine.

Who knows, like its WWI predecessor, who boldly yet naively declared its war would be THE WAR TO END ALL WARS, that this time around any future WWII, in the near or distant future, won't end up earning the far more grim accolade THE WAR THAT ENDED THE WORLD.
