

British Prime Minister: Afghan army training to be centre of NATO efforts

By Global Research

Global Research, October 10, 2009

10 Downing Street 9 October 2009

Region: Asia

Theme: Militarization and WMD

In-depth Report: AFGHANISTAN

The Prime Minister and the commander of the international forces in Afghanistan have agreed that accelerated training of Afghan army and police needs to be at the centre of NATO's counter-insurgency efforts in future.

Gordon Brown met General McChrystal in Downing Street yesterday to build on discussions from their last meeting, in Afghanistan on 29 August.

A spokesman for the PM said they discussed the General's strategic assessment of the campaign in Afghanistan and agreed that the mission was at a vital stage.

He added that Mr Brown looked forward to further discussion of General McChrystal's recommendations amongst NATO allies in coming weeks.

The original source of this article is 10 Downing Street
Copyright © Global Research, 10 Downing Street, 2009

Comment on Global Research Articles on our Facebook page

Become a Member of Global Research

Articles by: Global Research

Disclaimer: The contents of this article are of sole responsibility of the author(s). The Centre for Research on Globalization will not be responsible for any inaccurate or incorrect statement in this article. The Centre of Research on Globalization grants permission to cross-post Global Research articles on community internet sites as long the source and copyright are acknowledged together with a hyperlink to the original Global Research article. For publication of Global Research articles in print or other forms including commercial internet sites, contact: publications@globalresearch.ca

www.globalresearch.ca contains copyrighted material the use of which has not always been specifically authorized by the copyright owner. We are making such material available to our readers under the provisions of "fair use" in an effort to advance a better understanding of political, economic and social issues. The material on this site is distributed without profit to those who have expressed a prior interest in receiving it for research and educational purposes. If you wish to use copyrighted material for purposes other than "fair use" you must request permission from the copyright owner.

For media inquiries: publications@globalresearch.ca