Bianca shares her late father Dan's story to help raise awareness about the PF side effects.

Dan experienced excruciating head pain six months after his first PF, which his GP diagnosed as a sinus infection. He suffered an aneurysm a month later and passed away suddenly.

Bianca and her family are devastated by their loss and believe that if the PF were not mandated, Dan would still be alive today.

AUGUST 27

My name is Bianca, and I am sharing my father Dan's story. My dad sadly passed away unexpectedly on the 7th of July, 2022 at the age of 49.

Dad was born in Romania and came to Australia in 1991, hoping for a better life. He was a loving father of two and a proud grandfather of three. Dad had no underlying health conditions. Although he was a big man, he was in good health and, since 2014, he maintained a healthy weight. He liked to travel, spend time with his family, and appreciated good food. Dad subcontracted as a skip-bin driver and enjoyed being his own boss.

From the start, Dad believed there was something not right about the PF.

He held off for as long as he could until his boss said he would be unable to work without being PF. Dad had his first PF on the 1st of January, 2022. He had his second PF on the 1st of February. He had no immediate reaction in the 15-minute wait period after both PF.

In early June, Dad experienced what he described as excruciating pain and immense pressure in the front of his head. He said it felt like he was going to pass out, especially whenever he tilted his head forwards. He was unable to work for a week and spent most of his time in bed. The pain also made it hard for him to sleep.

Dad worried the head pain was something bad because he never had a headache as painful, and he was especially concerned that he was about to pass out.

Knowing my dad had his first PF 6 months prior, I worried that his head pain was a PF side effect. I said nothing because I didn't want to frighten him.

On the 8th of June, Dad saw his GP about his head pain. He was given a 10-day course of antibiotics and referred for a CT scan of his brain, which he had on the 10th of June.

When Dad returned to his GP, he was told the CT scan was normal. By this time, he had almost completed the initial course of antibiotics, and he told his doctor they had not alleviated his head pain. His GP told him he had a sinus infection and prescribed another 10-day course of antibiotics.

After his appointment, we talked about his results over the phone. Dad thought it was weird he was diagnosed with a sinus infection because he had none of the usual symptoms. He did not have any cold or flu-like symptoms, no stuffy nose or cough, and he didn't have any pressure on his face or under his eyes or nose. He said the only pain was on the top of his head.

Dad continued to experience the head pain, but he told me on the 26th of June that he felt better.

I usually spoke to him on the phone every day. The night before he passed, he was so happy after I told him I had been offered the job I recently interviewed for. He was the happiest I had seen him since his head pain started at the beginning of June. He laughed, made jokes, and talked to his grandsons. Ironically, just before his phone died, he told me he was happy he would be home by lunch time the next day because he didn't have many bins to do.

Sadly, he never came home early because he passed away before he even started work.

On the morning of the 7th of July, I called his mobile at around 10am, but he didn't answer. I knew something was not right when he did not pick up any calls. Usually, he talked on the phone through his Bluetooth while he worked.

Dad received his jobs through an app on his tablet. When his employer said the app showed he was still at the site where he parked his truck, we (my partner, Dad's partner, and I) decided to check on him, assuming he had hurt his back or something minor like that.

At about 11am, my partner came home and we drove to the property where Dad parked his truck. We arrived at about midday, and we knew Dad had not yet left because the gate to the property was still open.

I never anticipated I would find Dad passed away, sitting in his truck. He looked so peaceful, as if he were asleep — but he didn't look like himself anymore. It was horrible.

We called emergency services, but there was nothing they could do to save him.

I knew his routine. He arrived on site at around 7am and started the truck. Because the truck was old, he waited roughly 30-minutes for it to warm up. During that time, he set up his tablet for his first job, rolled down his window to have a cigarette, and maybe called someone.

That particular morning, he only managed to start the truck, switch on his tablet, connect to his hotspot, and open the app. His truck windows were still up.

We waited months for the letter to confirm Dad's cause of death. I couldn't believe it when I read it was due to a "subarachnoid haemorrhage in association with a berry aneurysm". His brain scan a few weeks prior showed no signs of an aneurysm.

Some time later, Senator Gerard Rennick posted a link to a study about people dying within 6 months of their PF. I was shocked that "subarachnoid haemorrhage in the brain" was specifically mentioned because this was EXACTLY Dad's cause of death AND he passed away 6 months after his first Pfizer PF.

There are many "what-if" scenarios that play on my mind.

What if the PF wasn't mandated?
What if I took Dad to the hospital that day when my gut screamed at me that the sinus infection was the wrong diagnosis?
What if we had checked on Dad earlier the morning he passed?

I thought it would never happen to me or my family. I'm only 22-years-old and I had to bury my dad. My children have been robbed of their grandfather. He would be alive today if he wasn't forced to take the poison PF to keep his job.

I am sharing my dad's story because I want people to see that taking the PF is a game of Russian roulette — some have no reaction, some have irreversible injuries, and some die.

I want to see retribution and accountability. Even though nothing will bring Dad back, I want the PF, the campaigning for them, and the mandates to be completely withdrawn. Everyone affected should receive financial compensation!

A tragedy struck the community of Villabate, at the gates of Palermo, when a 34-year-old bricklayer, Pietro Storniolo, died of sudden illness while behind the wheel of his car. This father of three children, with another on the way, was married and was returning home at the end of a day at work when he felt sick. The accident occurred on Corso Umberto in Ficarazzi.

Storniolo managed to get out of the car and sat on the sidewalk, looking for help. A passing woman promptly called emergency number 118. An ambulance arrived on the spot and the medical staff tried to revive him through heart massage. But unfortunately there was nothing to do, and the 34-year-old was declared deceased on the spot.

Discover the details surrounding Frederick Portis death, a devoted law enforcement officer found deceased in northwest Harris County.

The tragic discovery of Frederick Portis, a Waller County deputy constable, found lifeless inside his Police vehicle in northwest Harris County, has left the community in shock.

On Thursday evening, Portis' body was found by witnesses on Enclave Vista Lane and West Little York Road, where his patrol vehicle was parked with sirens still activated.

April 13, 2023 – Gainesville, GA – 40 year old Phillip Pumphrey was found dead in his car from natural causes.

Forensic examiners have not yet determined how a Waller County constable deputy found inside his car in northwest Harris County died, according to the Harris County medical examiner's office.

Sgt. Frederick Portis' cause and manner of death as of Thursday were listed as pending, according to the Harris County medical examiner's website. His age is not listed on the page.

A motorist called Harris County sheriff's deputies around 7:30 p.m. Thursday from the I2400 block of West Little York Road to report an unmarked vehicle with the lights on, according to television reports. Emergency responders found Portis dead inside the vehicle.

Waller County Precinct 3 Constable Herschel Smith said Portis had talked with another officer as recently as 2:15 p.m. and he'd seemed fine. The officer tried to call him back around 2:30 p.m. and he didn't respond.

But Portis had been at a meeting the night before and been in good spirits, Smith said. Portis was found inside the passenger side of the vehicle, Smith said.

Funeral expense for my brother Phillip Pumphrey

 Anthony Newell is organizing this fundraiser.

On April 3rd 2023 my brother had triple bypass surgery on his heart. He was doing good, got to come home and everything and then on Thursday April 13th, his wife woke up to him not in the bed. She went outside to look for him and found him dead in the car from natural causes. Phillip was only 40 years old, he had a wife who stood by him in everything he did, he also has 3 young boys he left behind. He didn't have any kind of life insurance so my family is needing all the help we can get to pay the funeral cost.

'We have no idea what is happening': Family concerned about lack of investigation in son's sudden death

Surrounded by family members in his Hampton Village home, Syed Nasir Shah says he has no idea how his 19-year-old son died in his car outside a Saskatoon gym — but they have many questions about why his death hasn't been investigated as suspicious.

"We have no idea what is happening," Nasir said in an interview, 12 days after Syed Sheraz Ahmed was found dead in the driver's seat of his car, parked outside the Dollar Tree beside the Saskatoon gym where he had worked out earlier that evening.

This advertisement has not loaded yet, but your article continues below.

His family wants to know what happened after he left the Fit4Less gym in a Confederation Park strip mall on Oct. 6.

Family members said they were not told how he died, or how long the autopsy will take, and are frustrated with the lack of communication.

On Wednesday, the Saskatchewan Coroners Service confirmed that an autopsy is complete and the results will be available in four to six months.

Nasir said Sheraz, a civil engineering student at the University of Saskatchewan, had no pre-existing health conditions or allergies, and a very predictable routine.

The family believes he may have been a victim of crime. His credit card was missing from his wallet, somebody was cancelling the family's calls to his cellphone, and three notifications about purchases made from his debit card at a Shell gas station appeared on his phone screen the day after his death.

Nasir said his son's water bottle, wallet, cellphone and car were returned to them within hours after he was found dead, and when he asked if they wanted to keep any of the items for fingerprinting or DNA testing, the officer said no.

My Take...

I am writing this substack in memory of Dan Moraru. He left Romania in 1991 shortly after Communism fell, to give his family a better life in Australia.

I left communist Czechoslovakia in 1988 for a better life in Canada, through a United Nations refugee camp in Yugoslavia where we met many Romanian families who were fleeing Communism. Some of them had been stuck in the refugee camp for 5 years, a few even longer.

Having lived through Communism, Dan was suspicious of the COVID-19 vaccine, but was mandated to take it or lose his job. Dan survived Romania's communism. He didn't survive Australia's COVID-19 fascism. He was dead after his 2nd Pfizer mRNA shot, from a brain bleed, one of the more common causes of post mRNA Vaccine sudden deaths in young people.

I've written substacks about COVID-19 Vaccinated people collapsing behind the wheel and crashing their cars, trucks, or the buses or school buses they were driving. I'm the only physician warning about this for many months now.

This is still happening on a regular basis.

COVID-19 Vaccinated young people are being found dead in their vehicles from cardiac arrests, heart attacks, pulmonary emboli (blood clots in lungs), brain bleeds, aneurysms, strokes, etc.

Whenever you hear about a vehicle crash, look for the words "suffered a medical emergency". This is how these deaths are being referred to now.

The Worldwide Corona Crisis, Global Coup d'Etat Against Humanity

by Michel Chossudovsky

Michel Chossudovsky reviews in detail how this insidious project “destroys people’s lives”. He provides a comprehensive analysis of everything you need to know about the “pandemic” — from the medical dimensions to the economic and social repercussions, political underpinnings, and mental and psychological impacts.

“My objective as an author is to inform people worldwide and refute the official narrative which has been used as a justification to destabilize the economic and social fabric of entire countries, followed by the imposition of the “deadly” COVID-19 “vaccine”. This crisis affects humanity in its entirety: almost 8 billion people. We stand in solidarity with our fellow human beings and our children worldwide. Truth is a powerful instrument.”

Reviews

This is an in-depth resource of great interest if it is the wider perspective you are motivated to understand a little better, the author is very knowledgeable about geopolitics and this comes out in the way Covid is contextualized. —Dr. Mike Yeadon

In this war against humanity in which we find ourselves, in this singular, irregular and massive assault against liberty and the goodness of people, Chossudovsky's book is a rock upon which to sustain our fight. —Dr. Emanuel Garcia explaining how a PCR test, producing up to 97% proven false positives, combined with a relentless 24/7 fear campaign, was able to create a worldwide panic-laden “plandemic”; that this plandemic would never have been possible without the infamous DNA-modifying Polymerase Chain Reaction test – which to this day is being pushed on a majority of innocent people who have no clue. His conclusions are evidenced by renown scientists.

In fifteen concise science-based chapters, Michel traces the false covid pandemic,

—Peter Koenig

Professor Chossudovsky exposes the truth that “there is no causal relationship between the virus and economic variables.” In other words, it was not COVID-19 but, rather, the deliberate implementation of the illogical, scientifically baseless lockdowns that caused the shutdown of the global economy. –David Skripac

A reading of Chossudovsky’s book provides a comprehensive lesson in how there is a global coup d’état under way called “The Great Reset” that if not resisted and defeated by freedom loving people everywhere will result in a dystopian future not yet imagined. Pass on this free gift from Professor Chossudovsky before it’s too late. You will not find so much valuable information and analysis in one place. –Edward Curtin
