PROGRAMME DETAILS

Date: September 22, 2008 (11 AM - 1.00 PM, Central Time)

This Week's Guest: Danny Schechter and Ilan Pappé

Host: Stephen Lendman

Danny Schechter is a media activist, critic, independent filmmaker, TV producer as well as an author and lecturer on media and other issues.

Some call him "The News Dissector," and that's the name of his popular blog on media issues. He's also co-founder of www.MediaChannel.org. It covers the political, cultural and social impacts of the media and provides real information about it unavailable in the mainstream.

Schechter has a new book out titled: "Plunder: Investigating Our Economic Calamity and the Subprime Scandal." An in-depth review is posted on www.GlobalResearch.ca. The program will focus on the book's vitally important material given the current world financial crisis affecting everyone.

Ilan Pappé is an Israeli historian, now living in the UK and teaching at the University of Exeter where he chairs the Department of History and is co-director of the Exeter Center for Ethno-Political Studies. Formerly, he was the academic head and founder of the Institute for Peace studies in Givat Haviva Israel (1992 - 2000) and Chair of the Emil Touma Institute for Palestinian Studies in Haifa (2000 - 2008).

Pappé is an academic and human rights activist “who believes that commitment and professionalism do not necessarily clash, but rather reinforce each other.”

He writes extensively on the Middle East and authored numerous books, including “The Ethnic Cleansing of Palestine.”

The Israeli-Palestinian conflict and other Middle East issues will be discussed on the program.

RBN is on KU Satellite: Transponder Frequency 11836, Symbol Rate 20770, @ 97 degrees west.

Also available on internet radio.

About Global Research Hosts

Award winning author and economics professor Michel Chossudovsky is Director of the Centre for Research on Globalization, Montreal, which hosts the critically acclaimed website: www.globalresearch.ca.

Michel Chossudovsky has taught at universities and academic institutions in North America, Western Europe, Latin America, Asia and the Pacific. He is currently teaching in the International Development and Globalization Studies Program at the University of Ottawa.

He has undertaken field-research in all major regions of the developing World and has traveled to over 100 countries.

“It was as a young visiting professor at the Catholic University in Santiago, Chile, that Chossudovsky's interest in “economic repression” was first pricked. Augusto Pinochet's military junta, which overthrew Salvador Allende in 1973, quadrupled the price of bread and introduced other measures that would now be referred to as “a structural adjustment program.” Chossudovsky set out, with a doctor, to study the malnourishment resulting from the bread price hike. He wound up with a paper that held the Pinochet regime responsible not only for conventional forms of political repression but for “economic repression” that impoverished three-quarters of Chile's population. Since then he has documented the purposeful impoverishment of people in dozens of countries.”
(Juliet O'Neill, The Ottawa Citizen)

Michel Chossudovsky has also worked for several United Nations organizations on missions to Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa and has acted as adviser to governments of developing countries.

He is an active member of the Canadian antiwar movement and has written extensively on US and allied war plans in the Balkans, the Middle East and Central Asia.

He is the author of several international best sellers including The Globalization of Poverty and the New World Order (2003) and America's "War on Terrorism" (2005) and more than 500 articles. His writings have been translated into more than 25 languages. He is also a contributor to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Michel Chossudovsky can be reached at crgeditor@yahoo.com

Stephen Lendman is a renowned author and Research Associate of the Centre for Research on Globalization (CRG). He is based in Chicago and has written extensively on war and peace, social justice in America and many other national and international issues. Stephen Lendman is a recipient of a 2008 Project Censored Award, University of California at Sonoma.
