On Thursday, Reuters reported Zelensky and his entourage in Europe "heard from several European Union leaders at a summit that they were ready to provide Kyiv with aircraft to help fight against Russia's invasion."

"The question of long-range weaponry and fighter jets for Ukraine has been resolved," declared Andriy Yermak, Zelensky's chief of staff. "Details still to follow."

The "taboo" of sending weapons capable of reaching hundreds of kilometers inside Russia is about to be broken, according to Reuters, the "news" agency that collaborated with the CIA.

"Mr. Zelensky received standing ovations before, during and after his speech to European lawmakers," reported The Hindu. "He held up an EU flag after his address and the entire legislature stood in somber silence as the Ukrainian national anthem and then European anthem 'Ode to Joy' were played."

More like an ode to mass murder.

European Parliament President Roberta Metsola said the "next step" is to provide "long range systems" and fighter jets to the ultranationalists. Metsola said the "response" to the Russian effort to denazify and disarm the regime in Kyiv “must be proportional to the threat, and the threat is existential.”

Ukraine is Europe.

— Roberta Metsola (@EP_President) February 9, 2023

Metsola, elevated to the presidency of the European Parliament by a secret vote cast by MEPs (not European citizens), is taking the war to the next level.

The EU is encouraging the ultranationalist regime in Kyiv to resume its ethnic cleansing, torture, rape, and other war crimes committed in the Donbas and anywhere else Ukrainians dare to speak Russian, attend an Orthodox Church, celebrate Russian traditions, or speak out against atrocities committed by neo-nazi thugs.

Metsola and her fellow collaborationists should be required to read “War crimes of the armed forces and security forces of Ukraine: torture and inhumane treatment,” a second report on neo-nazi war crimes in Ukraine issued by the Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe (OSCE).

The PDF document reveals in gruesome detail the war crimes committed by the Ukrainian state following the USG-orchestrated coup in Kyiv that brought avowed neo-nazis to power.

The data that has been accumulated since the first report by the Foundation for Democracy Studies provides ground to conclude that torture and inhumane treatment inflicted by the Security Forces of Ukraine (SBU), by the Ukrainian armed forces, the National Guard and other formations within the Interior Ministry of Ukraine, as well as by illegal armed groups, such as Right Sector, have not only continued but are gaining in scale and are becoming systematic.

According to the report,

The prisoners were electrocuted, beaten cruelly and for multiple days in a row with different objects (iron bars, baseball bats, sticks, rifle butts, bayonet knives, rubber batons).

Techniques widely used by the Ukrainian armed forces and security forces include waterboarding, strangling with a ‘Banderist garrotte’ and other types of strangling.

In some cases prisoners, for the purposes of intimidation, were sent to minefields and run over with military vehicles, which led to their death.

Other torture methods used by the Ukrainian armed forces and security forces include bone-crashing, stabbing and cutting with a knife, branding with red-hot objects, shooting different body parts with small arms.

The prisoners taken captive by the Ukrainian armed forces and security forces are kept for days at freezing temperatures, with no access to food or medical assistance, and are often forced to take psychotropic substances that cause agony.

An absolute majority of prisoners are put through mock firing squads and suffer death and rape threats to their families.

Many of those tortured are not members of the self-defense forces of the Donetsk and Luhansk People's Republics (DPR and LPR).

The Convention on Human Rights “prohibits in absolute terms torture, irrespective of other circumstances,” and the state committing these violations “is responsible for the actions of all of its agencies, such as the police, security forces, other law enforcement officials, and any other State bodies who hold an individual under their control, whether they act under orders, or on their own accord,” the authors write.

In other words, there is more than enough evidence to convict the Man in Green and his ultranationalist associates of serious war crimes. In addition, the USG and the EU are guilty of supporting and facilitating the above-listed crimes. Add to this the owners and management of the corporate war propaganda media.

The EU-USG war crimes collaborationists are busy attempting to prevent Russia from protecting civilians in Donetsk, Luhansk, Mariupol, Melitopol, Kherson, and Crimea. It is fair to say they are war criminals and apologists of neo-Nazi terror.

Finally, the following video is supremely disgusting—a war criminal and his collaborator in mass murder, torture, and rape play kissy face for the camera.

In a more sane and less cruel world, both these nauseating creatures would be in a tribunal docket similar to the one that sentenced to death Martin Bormann, Hermann Goering, Wilhelm Keitel, Julius Streicher, and other unrepentant Nazis.
