As Donald Trump threatens that “Everybody is going to pay a price” for the alleged chemical weapons attack in Douma, having gathered his Generals, threatened Russia and Syria in the most chilling of terms, Russian military experts, having visited the allegedly affected places, have “found no trace” of chemical weapons:

“Experts in radiological, chemical and biological warfare, as well as medics, on Monday inspected the parts of the Eastern Ghouta city of Douma, where an alleged chemical attack supposedly took place on Saturday, the Russian Reconciliation Center for Syria said in a statement.”

‘The specialists “found no traces of the use of chemical agents” after searching the sites, the statement said. The center’s medical specialists also visited a local hospital but found no patients that showed signs of chemical weapons poisoning. “All these facts show... that no chemical weapons were used in the town of Douma, as it was claimed by the White Helmets,” the statement said, referring to the controversial “civil defense” group that was among the first to report about the alleged attack.’
