"The California governor has widely been considered as a possible presidential contender, and some see him as a potential candidate come 2028. Newsom has repeatedly fended off speculation he could challenge Biden for the Democratic presidential nomination in 2024.

... Newsom has in recent weeks been outspoken in his support for Biden's reelection bid, and he has directly attacked Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis (R), who is running for the GOP's 2024 nomination. Newsom is expected to debate DeSantis on Fox News this month. (The Hill)

Something to keep in mind:

The attacks on Biden from the Democrat Establishment coincide with the ascent of Gavin Newsom.

How could the DNC avoid a messy primary and nominate their preferred candidate (Newsom)?

It's in the fine print.

Biden is increasingly frail and confused, his dementia is worsening and his economic plan is faltering.

His popularity continues to crumble even among Democrats.

Consider the possibility that he resigns after receiving the Presidential nomination at the DNC 2024 convention.

56% of Americans disapprove of the president

Why that specific timing?

Because -

Rules adopted by the Democratic National Committee in 2022 leave the DNC as the sole authority to appoint a Presidential nominee where that nominee resigns after the August 2024 convention.

No vote or primary needed.

“Filling a Vacancy on the National Ticket: In the event of death, resignation or disability of a nominee of the Party for President or Vice President after the adjournment of the National Convention, the National Chairperson of the Democratic National Committee shall confer with the Democratic leadership of the United States Congress and the Democratic Governors Association and shall report to the Democratic National Committee, which is authorized to fill the vacancy or vacancies.”

Newsom is already running a presidential campaign - his tour of China, Xi’s visit to SF (why not DC?), his civil rights stops in the US.

The question is whether he is targeting 2024 or 2028.

Maybe it’s both.

@GavinNewsom

A great day to be in Jackson, Mississippi.

An enriching and grounding experience with Mayor @ChokweALumumba , joining College Hill Baptist Church for Palm Sunday and visiting the Civil Rights museum with @JenSiebelNewsom and the kids to take in our nation's history.

This is Newsom's final term as governor; he's barred from running in 2026.

Strategically, it is better for him to run now rather than wait until 2028. Think momentum.

What does Newsom have to say about a presidential run? Curious non-denials.

Something to think about.
