

Global Research: How To Help Us Circumvent Censorship

By The Global Research Team

Global Research, January 25, 2021

Dear Readers,

Global Research is a small team that believes in the power of information and analysis to bring about far-reaching societal change. Do you value the reporting and in-depth analysis we provide, free of charge, on a daily basis? Do you think this resource should be maintained and preserved as a research tool for future generations? Bringing you 24/7 updates from all over the globe has real costs associated with it. Please give what you can to help us meet these costs!

We need a steady flow of contributions from our readers in order to cover the day to day operations of GlobalResearch.ca. We recognize that times are tough for everyone and we are extremely grateful for every donation and membership subscription we receive, your support can make all the difference! We understand that times are tough for everyone. If a financial contribution is not something you can currently envision, but you would like to help out, please see below for details on becoming a Global Research Volunteer.

With measures being put in place to reduce our reach (such as tacit online censorship of independent media) there are a number of ways you can help us make sure that the questions we ask continue to be heard:

- Establish an email list of some fifty friends and family and forward the Global Research Newsletter and/or your favourite Global Research articles to this list on a daily basis.

- Use the various instruments of online posting and social media creatively to “spread the word”. Click the “like” and “share” buttons on our article pages for starters.

- Post one or more Global Research articles to internet discussion groups and blogs to build a dialogue around the subject matters we cover.

- Do you have friends who would benefit from our articles? Consider signing them up for our daily newsletter.

- Are you part of a community group or organized discussion group? Submit a topic we have covered or a specific article from our website for discussion at your next meeting.

We thank you for your essential support!
