

Global Research Weekender: Canadian Freedom Convoy Paving the Way for the End of Medical Tyranny

By Global Research News

Global Research, January 29, 2022

Tens of thousands of Canadian cross-border truckers with support from their compatriots and American counterparts travel from coast to coast to converge in Ottawa on Saturday, January 29th.

Freedom Convoy 2022 is a mass movement that was organized to address not just the vaccine mandate but also the prolonged freedom restrictions and disregard for human rights by the Trudeau government.

The demonstration is expected to be attended by at least 500,000 people. Truckers will reportedly remain in the vicinity until all mandates are dropped and until all Canadians can once again enjoy the freedom that was taken away two years ago.

This historic event is setting the stage for the world to emulate. Hope is around the corner. There is strength in numbers. Unite and resist the medical tyranny!

This interview by Mark Taliano suggests that there is a deliberate process on the part of the Canadian government of undermining US-Canada commodity trade, even in the case when the truck drivers have all the required documents.

There is evidence that cross-border trade is being deliberately undermined. This policy mandate is already creating shortages of essential goods including food, fuel and pharmaceuticals. It will also affect the delivery of essential commodities shipped via the US from China, the European Union and Latin America.

May God please bless these truckers and everyone supporting the convoys and the big Saturday protest in Ottawa. Thank you for helping to set us free from this medical tyranny and genocide. We pray that Trudeau and other covid criminals will be brought to justice, and we the people will soon celebrate in a restored, free, and fair country.

Free to Fly supports this peaceful and much-needed demonstration of collective resolve. Mandates and lockdowns are violating the most fundamental of our constitutional rights, not to mention destroying lives, the economy and jeopardizing the same for future generations. This convoy has been greatly encouraging and helped galvanized much of the nation saying “Enough!”.

By Brian Shilhavy, January 24, 2022

A COVID-19 mandatory vaccine requirement for all non-U.S. citizens coming across the borders from Canada and Mexico that includes truck drivers went into effect today, Saturday, January 22, 2022. Canada implemented a similar COVID-19 vaccine mandate for U.S. truck drivers entering Canada last week, and it is already disrupting the supply chains in Canada. Besides higher prices, food shortages have also been reported in Canada this past week.

The resistance reveals itself always in unexpected ways. As I type, thousands of truckers (numbers are in flux and are in dispute) are part of a 50-mile-long convoy in Canada, headed to the capital city of Ottawa in protest against an egregious vaccine mandate imposed by Prime Minister Justin Trudeau.

Millions of Canadians, both jabbed and unjabbed, stand behind the Freedom Convoy in spirit and in actions, including generous offers of financial help. Already, Can$6.5 million in funds have been raised for the truckers' fuel, food, and other immediate needs.
