For a long time, in the face of societal upheavals and the realisation that the world we live in is not the one we are told about, a crucial question has preoccupied the author: Is there a familial or societal limit for a well-informed, responsible citizen and fellow human being’s concern to ensure the survival of the human species and save as many people as possible?

An interview by Kla.TV with biostatistician Ricardo Delgado Martin, founder and director of the web platform “La Quinta Columna” (“The Fifth Pillar”) entitled “What Graphene Oxide & Nanotechnology in Covid Vaccines Have to Do with 5G” (link at the end of the article) updated the question.

“Complicit silence” or “buying into and working for the system” with large blood-stained sums of money on the table

A few salient quotes from the transcript of the interview will help answer the question posed at the outset, “How can we survive as a human species?”

When asked by Kla.TV’s interviewer “What is your mission?”, Mr Delgado replies:

“Today we can confirm even more that the mission of the “La Quinta Columna” platform is literally to save as many people as possible. Because what the elite are aiming for is the loss of all identity and humanity itself, is transhumanism or the extinction of the human species as we know it.”

The interviewer’s next question is:

“Why do you think there are not more biostatisticians, like yourself, or people from research and science who are dedicated to these questions, i.e. who analyse and research this issue of ‘vaccine’ and ‘epidemic’ etc.?”

Mr Delgado replies:

“Yes, there are. The problem is that those who know are silent, and it is a complicit silence that causes the loss of a great number of lives. And the rest are the very people who buy into and work for the system, with large sums of money on the table, of course, money stained with blood. I couldn’t put it better.”

Another question from Kla.TV’s interviewer:

“Well, if we go back to the beginning of the events, i.e. everything we have learned about the so-called pandemic; what better way to explain or present through the official media in such a way WHAT we have been told or what we have NOT been told in this regard.”

Mr Delgado’s response:

“Well, it was said that it was all the result of a non-existent coronavirus and therefore we had a pandemic, but in reality it is genocide through the introduction of a toxic chemical compound into the body. First of all, it is the flu campaign, targeting nursing homes and then the entire world population. So when we introduce a chemical compound that has a radio-modulable capacity and acts in the body as a pathogen, it is a premeditated deliberate act and of course genocide and not a pandemic at all. That’s why they can know with absolute precision exactly when a wave will occur, the second, the third, which they call variants, which is just a justification for the deaths and diseases caused by what they call vaccines, which logically is not a vaccine at all.”
