The size of this military operation under a UN sponsored "humanitarian mandate" is mind boggling.

NATO's stated objective is to save lives: "The aim of Operation UNIFIED PROTECTOR is to protect civilians and civilian-populated areas under attack or threat of attack."

In a bitter irony, Western public opinion is broadly supportive of this humanitarian endeavor which is carried out under the principle "Responsibility to Protect" (R2P). Each of the strike sorties results in countless deaths and injuries of civilians. The media has largely obfuscated the causes and consequences of this war.

According to NATO's most recent release (July 14, 2011),

A total of 15,061 sorties, including 5,673 strike sorties, have been conducted since the beginning of the NATO operation (31 March 2011, 06.00GMT)

The text of the release is indicated in ANNEX below.

Mission

NATO took control of all military operations for Libya under United Nations Security Council Resolutions 1970 & 1973 on 31 March 2011. The aim of Operation UNIFIED PROTECTOR is to protect civilians and civilian-populated areas under attack or threat of attack.

The mission consists of three elements: an arms embargo, a no-fly-zone and actions to protect civilians from attack or the threat of attack.

Over the past 24 hours, NATO has conducted the following activities associated with
