

Online Censorship: Help Us Reverse the Tide

By Global Research News

Global Research, May 11, 2018

Dear Global Research Readers,

For almost seventeen years, Global Research, together with partner alternative media organizations, has sought Truth in Media with a view to providing our readers with analysis and opinion untainted by corporate or political lobbying and influence.

Recently we have been subject to a multi-faceted online campaign to silence us by targeting our visibility and sources of revenue. Where previously Global Research articles regularly appeared in the first pages of results when searching for coverage of current affairs, we have now been relegated to the bottom rung, often not appearing at all.

While our core readership has remained (thank you!), lack of visibility means reaching new readers has now become problematic. To reverse the tide of censorship, and keep the website growing, we call upon our readers to participate in an important endeavor.

In order to push back against our increasingly limited online reach, our objective is to recruit as many committed “volunteers” as possible among our 50,000 Newsletter subscribers and 1 million monthly readers. If you are in a position to donate 5-10 minutes of your day to us, we would be forever grateful. Here are some ways you could help:

- Establish an email list of some fifty friends and family and forward the daily Global Research Newsletter and/or your favourite Global Research articles to this list on a daily basis.

- Use the various instruments of online posting and social media creatively to “spread the word”. Click the “like” and “share” buttons on our articles’ pages for starters.

- Post one or more Global Research articles on internet discussion groups and blogs to build a dialogue around our coverage.

- Do you have friends who would benefit from our articles? Consider signing them up for our newsletter.

- Are you part of a community group or organized discussion group? Submit a topic we have covered or a specific article from our website for discussion at your next meeting.

Five to ten minutes a day. Let us know how you are proceeding. Send your feedback on your endeavors to crg.online@yahoo.com.

If you are pressed for time but would like to support Global Research, please consider making a donation, becoming a member, or purchasing a book from our online store.
