

Philippines: Arrests and political assassinations

By Global Research

Region: Asia

Global Research, November 05, 2007

KMU 5 November 2007

The Kilusang Mayo Uno (KMU) Labor Center condemned the arrest of Ricardo Bellamia, 47 years old, union organizer for the National Federation of Labor in Cebu. Bellamia was arrested last November 2, 2007 by police and soldiers at his house in Casay, Dalaguete, Cebu. He is being illegally detained at the Guadalupe Police Station in Cebu City.

“We were not surprise Bellamia has been accused as an New People’s Army (NPA) leader since this is the tactic being used by the military and police to give credence to their continued suppression of the trade union rights. Last May 2007, Vincent “Bebot” Borja, National Council Member of the KMU and union organizer of the National Federation of Labor Unions-KMU (NAFLU-KMU) in Leyte suffered the same as he was also arrested on the same allegations that he is an NPA leader,” said Elmer “Ka Bong” Labog, National Chairperson of the KMU.

According to Labog, the vilification of unionists and labor leaders and activists is the strategy of the Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo to decapitate the leadership and organization of KMU and other labor organizations. “When we filed a complaint with the International Labour Organization (ILO) against the Arroyo regime, one of the first reasons the regime’s representative said was that KMU is a front of the NPA and so that our complaint should be dismissed. When the police and military massacred at least 7 workers during the Hacienda Luisita almost 3 years ago, the police and military accused the workers of being infiltrated by NPA members. This is the Arroyo regimes’ mantra”

The labor leader stressed this analysis is shared by many observers. Prof. Philip Alston, United Nations (UN) Special Rapporteur on extrajudicial, summary or arbitrary executions said in his report to the UN General Assembly said that “Many in the [Philippine] government have concluded that civil society organization are ‘front’ for the Communist Party of the Philippines (CPP) and...the NPA” and that counterinsurgency operations have resulted in extrajududicial killings of leftists activists. He also noted that “...leaders of leftist organization are systematically hunted down...and they are often killed following a campaign of individual vilification designed to instill fear into the community.”

According to Labog, both the case of Bellamia and Borja will be highlighted during the International Day of Action against Trade Union Repression in the Philippines scheduled this November 16, 2007, exactly 3 years after the Hacienda Luisita Massacre.

Comment on Global Research Articles on our Facebook page

Become a Member of Global Research

Articles by: Global Research

Disclaimer: The contents of this article are of sole responsibility of the author(s). The Centre for Research on Globalization will not be responsible for any inaccurate or incorrect statement in this article. The Centre of Research on Globalization grants permission to cross-post Global Research articles on community internet sites as long the source and copyright are acknowledged together with a hyperlink to the original Global Research article. For publication of Global Research articles in print or other forms including commercial internet sites, contact: publications@globalresearch.ca www.globalresearch.ca contains copyrighted material the use of which has not always been specifically authorized by the copyright owner. We are making such material available to our readers under the provisions of "fair use" in an effort to advance a better understanding of political, economic and social issues. The material on this site is distributed without profit to those who have expressed a prior interest in receiving it for research and educational purposes. If you wish to use copyrighted material for purposes other than "fair use" you must request permission from the copyright owner.

For media inquiries: publications@globalresearch.ca