

Rumors of Sarah Palin as US Ambassador to Canada Met With Hilarious Outrage

By Lauren McCauley

Region: Canada, USA

Global Research, February 12, 2017

Common Dreams 10 February 2017

'If the Captain of Chaos wants to disrupt everything—including resetting relations with little ol' Canada—Palin would be the one to break the china'

Rumors that former Alaska Governor Sarah Palin could be the next ambassador to Canada have been met with a resounding “No Siree,” as Canadians this week have erupted in a chorus of (hilarious) outrage.

The backlash erupted after White House press secretary Sean Spicer on Wednesday refused to rule out the appointment when questioned directly.

Sarah Palin “represents the descent of politics,” wrote the Ottawa Citizen's Andrew Cohen. “We see today a direct line from Palin to Trump. Politically, Trump is Palin’s child.” (Photo: AP)

“We have no additional ambassador nominations or announcements to make on that front,” Spicer told reporters. “I’m sure at some point we will have, soon.” Canadian Prime Minister Justice Trudeau is expected to meet with U.S. Donald Trump on Monday.

Several Canadian lawmakers swiftly responded with their own thoughts on the reports.

“Well that would show how little Steve Bannon and his pal @realDonaldTrump think of Canada,” Member of Parliament (MP) Charlie Angus wrote on social media. Fellow New Democrat Nathan Cullen said Palin’s appointment would be “tantamount to having to deal with two Donald Trumps,” according to CBC News.

“She has never been very comfortable with the truth,” Cullen told reporters on Thursday. “Couldn’t recognize it most mornings if it jumped up and knocked her on the head.”

In a searing op-ed, Ottawa Citizen columnist Andrew Cohen argued that the appointment would not be out of the realm of possibility for Trump and warned that if appointed, the former vice presidential candidate and reality TV star “would bring her traveling carnival to Canada.”

“If the Captain of Chaos wants to disrupt everything—including resetting relations with little ol’ Canada—Palin would be the one to break the china,” Cohen wrote. Palin, he continued, “represents the descent of politics. We see today a direct line from Palin to Trump. Politically, Trump is Palin’s child.”

Should she be appointed, Cohen concluded, she would remind Canada, “lest we forget, of our new life through the looking glass.”

As the rumors percolated, other neighbors to the north took to Twitter to voice their opposition and to revel in the morose comedy of it all.

Sarah Palin may be appointed ambassador to Canada, narrowly beating out a rock, a piece of paper and a pair of scissors.

— Salamingia @salamingia 9 February 2017

Dear Mr. Trump: Rather than appoint Sarah Palin as ambassador to Canada, please bomb us. Signed, all intelligent life in Canada. #killmenow

— Doug Youmans (@dippedbanana) 8 February 2017

Sarah Palin ambassador to Canada? Our 2 official languages are French and English. She will have to learn at least one #canpoli pic.twitter.com/G0UwKkNDsU

— Mister Race Bannon (@MrRaceBannon) 9 February 2017

Sarah Palin is being considered for job as ambassador to Canada. She's presently on a flight to Europe to meet with us. #sarahpalin

— Rob Willcott (@advantagephysio) 9 February 2017

Appointing Sarah Palin for US Ambassador in Canada. That would be the perfect label on #Trump's IQ test.

— The Climate Tribunal (@ClimateTribunal) 10 February 2017

sarah palin possible ambassador to canada? ugh, it's getting EXHAUSTING apologizing for my country.

— blair cerny (@BlairCerny) 10 February 2017

If Sarah Palin becomes the ambassador to #Canada. Then every MP she ever speaks with should only speak to her in French. #résister

— Alternative NOAA (@altNOAA) 10 February 2017

Dear America: If you give us Sarah Palin, we'll respond appropriately <https://t.co/SEpEWG0lZd> pic.twitter.com/Nsag8acInK

— HuffPost Canada (@HuffPostCanada) 10 February 2017

No Sarah Palin, that's Mexico. Canada's in the other direction. #sarahpalin #trump pic.twitter.com/eFybxj8UyB

— dm gillis (@dmgillis) 9 February 2017

If Sarah Palin becomes our ambassador can we appoint Justin Bieber to be our ambassador for the US? #Canada

— Classless Chris (@ChrisJayRommel) 9 February 2017

Notably, there is growing concern among Canadians over Trump's so-called "America First" strategy. A new survey found that the majority of citizens want Trudeau to stand up for the nation's economic interests during upcoming trade negotiations and 58 percent "would support a trade war with the U.S. if the Trump administration slapped new tariffs on Canadian exports," the Globe and Mail reported Thursday.

At the same time, there has been growing pressure on Trudeau and other Canadian lawmakers to counter Trump's travel ban by lifting its cap on refugee resettlement.

The original source of this article is Common Dreams
Copyright © Lauren McCauley, Common Dreams, 2017

Comment on Global Research Articles on our Facebook page

Become a Member of Global Research

Articles by: Lauren McCauley

Disclaimer: The contents of this article are of sole responsibility of the author(s). The Centre for Research on Globalization will not be responsible for any inaccurate or incorrect statement in this article. The Centre of Research on Globalization grants permission to cross-post Global Research articles on community internet sites as long the source and copyright are acknowledged together with a hyperlink to the original Global Research article. For publication of Global Research articles in print or other forms including commercial internet sites, contact: publications@globalresearch.ca www.globalresearch.ca contains copyrighted material the use of which has not always been specifically authorized by the copyright owner. We are making such material available to our readers under the provisions of "fair use" in an effort to advance a better understanding of political, economic and social issues. The material on this site is distributed without profit to those who have expressed a prior interest in receiving it for research and educational purposes. If you wish to use copyrighted material for purposes other than "fair use" you must request permission from the copyright owner.

For media inquiries: publications@globalresearch.ca