"It is highly suspicious that the United States chose to conduct this particular air strike at this time," Russia's ambassador Vitaly Churkin said.

"It was quite significant and not accidental that it happened just two days before the Russian-American arrangements were supposed to come into full force," Churkin added.

"The beginning of work of the Joint Implementation Group was supposed to be September 19. So if the US wanted to conduct an effective strike on Al-Nusra or ISIS, in Deir ez-Zor or anywhere else, they could wait two more days and coordinate with our military and be sure that they are striking the right people."

"Instead they chose to conduct this reckless operation,"

"So it may well be, one has to conclude, that the airstrike has been conducted in order to derail the operation of the Joint Implementation Group and actually prevent it from being set in motion," ...

"It may well be that the United States is trying to hide the fact that they are actually not in control of the situation, that they allowed the situation to get out of control."

"Who is in charge in Washington. The Pentagon or the White House?" ...

"Is the US Colluding Directly with ISIL?" Question of Journalist

Washington Blames Russia according to US Ambassador Power. "Blaming Russia for Everything is the line taken by Washington Post." said Churkin
