Pearl Harbor and the Bay of Pigs

By Jacob G. Hornberger, December 09 2020

Given the outrage over what the court historians and the U.S. mainstream press have long maintained was an unprovoked attack by Japan on the United States, why have these same court historians and mainstream media outlets given a pass to the U.S. government for initiating an unprovoked attack on Cuba at the Bay of Pigs in 1961?

The “Great Reset” or the “Great Pretext” ... for Dystopia.

By Diana Johnstone, December 09 2020

The U.S. 'War on Terror' Has Displaced 37 Million People

By David Vine, December 09 2020

The report conservatively estimates that eight of the most violent “counterterror” wars the U.S. government has engaged in since 9/11 — in Afghanistan, Iraq, Libya, Pakistan, the Philippines, Somalia, Syria and Yemen — have produced 8 million refugees and 29 million internally displaced people.

Trump's Pernicious Military Legacy: From the Forever Wars to the Cataclysmic Wars

By Michael T. Klare, December 09 2020

However newsworthy it may be, this focus on Trump's belated troop withdrawals obscures a far more significant aspect of his military legacy: the conversion of the U.S. military from a global counterterror force into one designed to fight an all-out, cataclysmic, potentially nuclear war with China and/or Russia.

By William Spring, December 09 2020

The depth of Lehr's perspective and the scope of her trajectory are singular, having worked as an artist through the social changes of the 1960s and 1970s, the 80s and the 90s . . . and now the 21st century, with its direction into the unknown that feels so impossible to navigate.
