Crown Prince Mohammad bin Salman \(MBS\) Must Shelve His Vicious War in Yemen

By Pepe Escobar, October 03, 2019

This past weekend, Yemeni Armed Forces spokesman Brigadier Yahya al-Sari clinically described how Ansarallah, also known as the Houthi rebel movement, aided by what Yemenis describe as “popular committees,” captured three Saudi brigades of 2,400 – ragged – soldiers, plus Yemeni and Sudanese mercenaries as well as several hundred battle vehicles. At least 500 Saudi soldiers were killed, Ansarallah said. (A spokesman for the Saudi-led coalition denied the claim).

Financial Services Industry Slowly Abandons Britain Ahead of Brexit

By True Publica, October 03, 2019

The EU is London's biggest customer when it comes to financial services with exports worth £26 billion in profits. As the EU and Britain failed to agree a deal, the industry's hopes of largely unfettered access to the bloc, banks began moving around a trillion pounds of assets from London to new EU hubs, while trading worth around €240bn a day in eurozone government bonds has moved to Milan and Amsterdam.

The People's Republic of China: 70 Years of Struggle and Success

By Andrew Korybko, October 02, 2019

The People's Republic of China (PRC) celebrated its 70th anniversary on 1 October, which provides a worthwhile opportunity to reflect on the struggles and successes that it's experienced since its founding. There's no need to talk about what everyone already knows, namely that its economic growth over the past few decades is historically unprecedented and that it's now the world's second superpower alongside the US. Nor, for that matter, is it necessary to focus too much on the ongoing so-called "trade war" between these two global rivals, but rather, it's much more important to put everything into its historical context in order to better understand where the country is headed in the future.

By Dr. Jonathan Latham, October 02, 2019

Gene-editing has many potential uses. These include altering cells to treat human disease, altering crops and livestock for breeding and agriculture. Furthermore, in a move that has been widely criticised, Chinese researcher He Jiankui claims to have edited human babies to resist HIV by altering a gene called CCR5.

Counting the Dead Through the Fog of War in Afghanistan

By Nicolas J. S. Davies, October 02, 2019

During one week in late September, U.S.-led forces killed at least 70 civilians in two incidents in Afghanistan. A U.S. drone strike on September 19th killed at least 30 farmers harvesting pine nuts in Nangarhar province. Then on September 23rd, at least 40 civilians, including women and children, were reported killed in a combined U.S.-Afghan attack on a village in Taliban-controlled territory in southern Helmand province.

The Second Candle-Light Revolution in Korea: The People's Fight for the Survival of Clean Democracy

By Prof. Joseph H. Chung, October 02, 2019

The world still remembers the 2017 Candle-Light Revolution in which 17,000,000 Korean people fought peacefully and culturally on the streets, for several months, against the deep-rooted corruption culture developed and enforced under the 60- year conservative government's rule.

Guns for Hire: No, the U.S. Government Shouldn't be Using the Military to Police the Globe

By John W. Whitehead, October 01, 2019

War has become a huge money-making venture, and America, with its vast military empire and its incestuous relationship with a host of international defense contractors, is one of its best buyers and sellers. In fact, as Reuters reports, “[President] Trump has gone further than any of his predecessors to act as a salesman for the U.S. defense industry.”
