

South Koreans Greet 'Warmongering Trump' with Clear Message: 'Shut Up, Get Out'

"The war-threatening, weapons salesman Trump is not welcome here."

By Jake Johnson Global Research, November 08, 2017 Common Dreams 7 November 2017 Region: Asia, USA Theme: Intelligence, Police State & Civil Rights, US NATO War Agenda In-depth Report: NORTH KOREA

Denouncing U.S. President Donald Trump for intensifying "fears of war on the Korean Peninsula," thousands of South Koreans gathered in front of the U.S. embassy in Seoul on Tuesday to protest Trump's arrival, hoisting signs that sent an unambiguous message: "shut up and get out."

The peaceful demonstrations against the U.S. president—who has threatened to unleash "fire and fury" upon South Korea's northern neighbor, a move that would endanger millions of lives—are expected to carry on through Wednesday, when Trump is scheduled to deliver a speech on North Korea.

"The war-threatening, weapons salesman Trump is not welcome here, especially as he demands that South Korea pay more to host U.S. troops and set aside land for useless weapons like the THAAD missile defense system," Choi Eun-a of the Korean Alliance for Progressive Movements—one of the more than 200 groups participating in protests during Trump's two-day visit—said in a statement.

Trump motorcade on way to state dinner just passed protestors. Chants of "No Trump no war" and a few fireworks. pic.twitter.com/2R2Gwe0PcO

- Paula Hancocks (@PHancocksCNN) November 7, 2017

Even as Trump appeared to tone down his militaristic rhetoric with a call on Tuesday for North Korea to "come to the table" and "make a deal," the U.S. and South Korea engaged in a joint military exercise that could only be viewed as a "major show of force"—one that could further ratchet up tensions and global concerns of nuclear conflict.

Over the next several days, "three US aircraft carriers, accompanied by guided-missile destroyers and submarines, will be conducting a mock battle in the waters in the region," CNN reported on Tuesday. "It's likely the show of power by the U.S. forces will be seen by North Korea as a direct provocation."

During a press conference with South Korean President Moon Jae-in, Trump was explicit about the intent behind the military exercise—one of many that have taken place in the Pacific region over the last several months.

"I think we're showing great strength," Trump said. "We sent three of the largest aircraft carriers in the world [to the Korean Peninsula] and a nuclear submarine is also positioned."

It is this kind of flaunting of military might that hundreds of South Koreans gathered on Tuesday to reject, echoing calls by other world powers for the U.S. to negotiate peace with North Korea.

"We do not welcome Trump," one protester declared on Tuesday. "We will shout for the warmongering Trump to leave our land in peace until he is out of here."

South Korea: 'No Trump, No War' – Thousands attend rally against US Pres. in Seoul.? pic.twitter.com/OGr9R5sRaR

— asuka (@asuka_250) November 7, 2017

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-Share Alike 3.0 License

Featured image is from Richard Engel/Twitter.

The original source of this article is Common Dreams Copyright © Jake Johnson, Common Dreams, 2017

Comment on Global Research Articles on our Facebook page

Become a Member of Global Research

Articles by: Jake Johnson

Disclaimer: The contents of this article are of sole responsibility of the author(s). The Centre for Research on Globalization will not be responsible for any inaccurate or incorrect statement in this article. The Centre of Research on Globalization grants permission to cross-post Global Research articles on community internet sites as long the source and copyright are acknowledged together with a hyperlink to the original Global Research article. For publication of Global Research articles in print or other forms including commercial internet sites, contact: publications@globalresearch.ca www.globalresearch.ca contains copyrighted material the use of which has not always been specifically authorized by the copyright owner. We are making such material available to our readers under the provisions of "fair use" in an effort to advance a better understanding of political, economic and social issues. The material on this site is distributed without profit to those who have expressed a prior interest in receiving it for research and educational purposes. If you wish to use copyrighted material for purposes other than "fair use" you must request permission from the copyright owner.

For media inquiries: publications@globalresearch.ca