In recent days, official medias of Western-Arab-Zionist countries and malicious users of social network have attempted, once again, to lobotomize people by claiming, with supporting photos and videos, that the Syrian president is indeed the butcher of the people and that the Al-Nosra Front, aka HTS for Hay'at Tahrir al-Sham, is doing a good job in Syria.

For this purpose, they took advantage of the release of “regime” detainees from Sednaya prison. Here, in France, a friend exclaimed: “What do you mean, you don’t watch BFM, LCI, Cnews etc.? Compared to what these channels show us, the Holocaust is no more at the pinnacle of horror. They showed us children, almost babies, public pits preserved in salt...”.

But, for once, the truth was quickly revealed by the Syrian civil defence and the Association of Detainees and the Missing in Sednaya prison [ADMSP][1], which means that some media were forced to admit this truth, as France 24 prudently did on its Arabic channel [2].

The search for french or english versions of the program entitled “Truth or Manipulation ?” being unsuccessful on France 24 websites, here is the translation from arabic:

“The Sednaya prison, with its bad reputation, occupied a central place within social networks following the takeover of the so-called “opposition factions” and the release of its prisoners. The X platform was invaded by poignant images, including this video (image 0.11). According to users, it shows an amnesiac prisoner in a pitiful condition.

At the same time, misleading sequences have spread, including this photo published on X (image 0.41), users claiming that it corresponded to the very moment a prisoner was found in one of the underground floors of the prison. However, research has shown that this information is inaccurate.

image 0.41

We found the same photo in a video on TikTok (image 0.57). It shows a young man emerging from an underground excavation holding huge spider in his hands, with the mention: created by IA... In other words, it does not show a Syrian refugee as users of this platform claimed.

image 0.57

Another video widely spread on the X platform by users claiming to document the condition of a Syrian prisoner locked in an individual cell (image 1.38), also turned out to be misleading. We found it on YouTube. The video is from 2017. It is an artistic representation of a prison cell exhibited in a Vietnamese museum, not a Syrian prisoner released from Sednaya prison.

image 1.38

Another sequence, also spread on the X platform by users claiming that it concerns a Syrian political prisoner who spent 30 years in the prisons of the Baas party, who, after his release, visited the graves of his sons killed by the “regime” during the war, or the Syrian revolution (image 1.57). After verification, it turns out that this sequence does not correspond to what users have claimed. Indeed, the video is stamped “Al-Quds”, broadcast on 14 november 2024, and shows a Palestinian prisoner returned to the graves of his two sons in Berkin (west of Jenin in the West Bank).

At the same time, some asserted that there were Syrian prisoners locked up in secret underground cells, including this account (at 2'56 of the video) who claimed that these cells extended over 3 floors with thousands of prisoners still inside.

However, the Association of Detainees and the Missing in Sednaya prison published a statement claiming that no more imprisoned left in Sednaya prison. On his side, the Civil defence declared on the X platform that all teams have not found any cellar or secret door in this prison. But, despite that, here is a video (image 3'28) which states that they still digging to free prisoners who might be underground.

What France 24 Did Not Say

What the France 24 journalist did not say, or did not notice on this (image 3'28), is that the outfit of this man, who continues to dig, recalls very strongly the uniform of the White Helmets organization, these famous thieves of identity associated with the al-Nosra Front and became, now, the "Syrian civil defence" under the HTS government.

Besides, Ms. Farah al-Atassi, distinguished member of the révolutionary opposition inside the United States, said two days ago that the White Helmets was trained to open the Syrian prisons and many other tasks, in Idlib, by the so-called democratic and secular opposition of HTS and Co [3].

This image, in light of current events in Syria, explains why Washington insiste to invite the Director of the White Helmets, Raed al-Saleh, to participate at the session of the UN Security Council held on the third of december [4]. Indeed, the UN press tells us that the Russian delegation, scandalized by his odious presence, requested that his participation must be submitted to votes, and that Washington won with 11 votes for, 2 against (China and Russian Federation), and 2 abstentions (Algeria and Mozambique).

Thus, Raed al-Saleh was able to speak at great length, wearing this uniform allowing the members of this alleged humanitarian organization to be identified on the ground, while it was created to serve Western-Zionist-colonialist ambitions and to support extremist organizations.

Israel only defends itself!

Finally, everything was planned and implemented to divert attention from what is happening in the Levant and, above all, to occult Israel crimes (in Gaza, and occupied Palestine, Lebanon, Irak, Syria...), which is only defending itself!

One could believe that the day will come when Israel will only be able to defend itself against itself. Although, it is not excluded that even in that case, Washington and the world who calls themselves "Judeo-Christian" will defend it, while after having poisoned Islam, they have just massacred the true Christianity, in her historic birthplace.

Message from Mr. Ghassan Shami

Those who believe that the revolutionary terrorists would have mutated into doves of peace and tolerance would better listen to the message of Mr. Ghassan Shami and watch his video posted this morning on his FB page. Here is the translation:

"To the patriarchs of Antioch and all the Levant,

To all those who believe in freedom of belief,

To the churches of the West despite their silence,

Enough dhimmitude.

Raise your voice.

The reassuring promises of Al-Joulani and his clan to Christians have lasted only one day. The following day, the Takfiris returned to their habits and started by profaning the Santa Sophia Church of Al-Suqaylabiyah, not far from the city of Hama (a reduced replica of Hagia Sophia, the ancient Byzantine Basilica of Constantinople converted into a mosque by the Turkish authorities).

What is odd is that the Greek Orthodox Bishop of Hama Nicolas Baalbaki who consecrated it and who suffered an assault on the day of its inauguration on July 2022; as well as the priest Dimitrius Maher Haddad who baptized children and negotiated with the takfiris on behalf of the city, kept a grave silence.

Enough dhimmitude." [5].

It is certainly irrelevant to judge the silence of all those who find themselves at the mercy of these lawless individuals, as if we had already forgotten the massacre of Adra [6] and all the atrocities denounced by the regretted Nahed Hattar, the Jordanian journalist and writer who paid with his life for his commitment to the side of Syria and freedom of belief.

But we certainly must judge the cruelty and cupidity of a world that considers itself civilized, and is today an accomplice of those who murder and dive into hell a wonderful country described as the pillar of heaven: Syria.
