

The Syrian Outcome Has Departed from Washington's "Foreign Policy Script". ISIS "Terrorists" are US-NATO Mercenaries

The CIA and presstitutes will re-write the history

By Dr. Paul Craig Roberts

Global Research, October 02, 2017

Paul Craig Roberts Institute for Political Economy

Region: Middle East & North Africa

Theme: Media Disinformation, Terrorism, US NATO War Agenda

In-depth Report: SYRIA

Stephen Lendman sums up the success of Russian and Syrian militaries against Washington-supported ISIS. Washington claims to be fighting ISIS, but doesn't. Remember, U.S. General Flynn, former director of the Defense Intelligence Agency, revealed on television that it was the "willful decision" of the Obama regime to use ISIS to overthrow the Assad government. General Flynn said the decision was made over his objection.

News agencies and writers should stop referring to ISIS and any of the other groups as "terrorists." The term "terrorists" connotes an independence that the "terrorists" do not have. These so-called "terrorists" are organized, financed, and armed by Washington and Washington's vassals. Washington uses "terrorists" as a foreign policy tool. This has been going on for decades. Yes, sometimes the "terrorists" escape Washington's control. Washington supported Osama bin Laden in Afghanistan to help organize the Mujahideen to fight against the Soviet occupying force. Everyone knows this, or, perhaps I should say, formerly knew it prior to the presstitutes helping Washington bury all the facts and replace them with fake news.

The CIA has long used presstitutes to rewrite history. But not all facts have yet been thrown down the Memory Hole. Here is former British Foreign Secretary Robin Cook:

"Bin Laden was, though, a product of a monumental miscalculation by western security agencies. Throughout the '80s he was armed by the CIA and funded by the Saudis to wage jihad against the Russian occupation of Afghanistan."

Here is Prince Bander bin Sultan on CNN's Larry King program (October 1, 2001):

"This is ironic. In the mid-'80s, if you remember, we and the United - Saudi Arabia and the United States were supporting the Mujahideen to liberate Afghanistan from the Soviets. He [Osama bin Laden] came to thank me for my efforts to bring the Americans, our friends, to help us against the atheists, he said the communists. Isn't it ironic?"

See also this article.

Comment on Global Research Articles on our Facebook page

Become a Member of Global Research

Articles by: Dr. Paul Craig Roberts

About the author:

Paul Craig Roberts, former Assistant Secretary of the US Treasury and Associate Editor of the Wall Street Journal, has held numerous university appointments. He is a frequent contributor to Global Research. Dr. Roberts can be reached at <http://paulcraigroberts.org>

Disclaimer: The contents of this article are of sole responsibility of the author(s). The Centre for Research on Globalization will not be responsible for any inaccurate or incorrect statement in this article. The Centre of Research on Globalization grants permission to cross-post Global Research articles on community internet sites as long the source and copyright are acknowledged together with a hyperlink to the original Global Research article. For publication of Global Research articles in print or other forms including commercial internet sites, contact: publications@globalresearch.ca www.globalresearch.ca contains copyrighted material the use of which has not always been specifically authorized by the copyright owner. We are making such material available to our readers under the provisions of "fair use" in an effort to advance a better understanding of political, economic and social issues. The material on this site is distributed without profit to those who have expressed a prior interest in receiving it for research and educational purposes. If you wish to use copyrighted material for purposes other than "fair use" you must request permission from the copyright owner.

For media inquiries: publications@globalresearch.ca