Both right wings of the US war party consider nonbelligerent Russia an existential threat.

The CIA, National Endowment for Democracy (NED), International Republican Institute (IRI), National Democratic Institute, USAID, right-wing US think tanks, the CIA/AFL and other large labor unions, along with similar organizations and initiatives are all about advancing Washington's anti-democratic agenda at the expense of world peace.

A newly released USAID document is titled "COUNTERING MALIGN KREMLIN INFLUENCE (CMKI) DEVELOPMENT FRAMEWORK," the latest US anti-Russia broadside.

COUNTERING MALIGN KREMLIN INFLUENCE (CMKI) DEVELOPMENT FRAMEWORK

Goal: Increased resilience of partner countries
Objective 1: Counter efforts to undermine democratic institutions and the rule of law
1.1 Strengthen checks and balances and rule of law	1.2 Strengthen civil society’s resilience against efforts to restrict, harass, and stigmatize independent, non-governmental activity	1.3 Reduce the vulnerability of electoral and political processes to external interference and polarization
Objective 2: Resist the manipulation of information
2.1 Bolster the capacity of indigenous media to provide professional, trusted news and information	2.2 Increase media literacy and public demand for high-quality, independent reporting	2.3 Strengthen the legal and regulatory operating environment for press freedom
Objective 3: Reduce energy vulnerabilities
3.1 Enhance the energy security of partner countries	3.2 Reduce dependence on Kremlin-controlled energy resources	3.3 Improve internal and external oversight and governance of the energy sector
Objective 4: Reduce economic vulnerabilities
4.1 Promote the diversification of exports and enable firms to compete in western markets	4.2 Strengthen the ability of financial markets to meet and comply with international standards and practices

On Friday, USAID head Mark Green presented the Trump regime strategy for “countering malign Kremlin influence” that doesn’t exist — “by building the economic and democratic resilience (sic) of targeted countries (sic),” adding:

“The United States has long believed that a strong, prosperous, and free Europe (sic) is vitally important to American strategic interests.”

“The Russian Government and its proxies (sic) aim to weaken US influence in the world and divide us from our allies and partners (sic).”

The above Orwellian remarks turned reality on its head about the most dedicated major nation to world peace and multi-world polarity.

The US is hell-bent for eliminating what it claims to support globally, including the sovereign rights of all nations, their energy and economic independence, as well as democratic rule, media independence, and rule of law observance.

USAID falsely claimed Washington supports all of the above for all nations. Its aim for dominion over planet earth, its resources and population belies these high-minded notions US policymakers abhor.

Russia's Foreign Ministry responded to the USAID's policy document, calling it "malicious anti-Russian propaganda," adding:

The US agency "is not at all aimed at creating an atmosphere of cooperation on the world stage, but serves as an instrument of ideological struggle and propaganda."

Policymakers in Washington want all other nations "subordinate(ed) to US interests." Bipartisan US hardliners want normalization of US/Russia relations prevented.

They want puppet regimes beholden to US interests installed everywhere. The USAID document is the latest in a long line of anti-Russia US efforts — showing partnership between both nations is unattainable.

It's foolhardy to believe otherwise. Russia and China are the only nations able to challenge US sought global dominance.

Post-Soviet Union Cold War 2.0 Russophobia is far more menacing to world peace than its earlier version.

Relentless US bipartisan media-supported Russia bashing risks unthinkable confrontation between the world's dominant nuclear powers — a doomsday scenario if occurs by accident or design.

Moscow is accused of all sorts of things it had nothing to do with. Endlessly repeated propaganda gets most people to believe it, despite no credible evidence backing claims, none even presented.

The Russian Federation never attacked or threatened another nation - what the US and its imperial partners do repeatedly, waging permanent wars of aggression and other hostile actions on humanity at home and abroad, what imperialism is all about.

The evil empire is headquartered in Washington — with branch offices in most nations on every continent, colonial control beyond whatever existed earlier.

Fantasy democracies and tyrannical regimes define US allies — pressured, bullied, bribed, and/or threatened to serve its interests.

Russia and China use carrots, not sticks, to gain allies, a longterm winning strategy unless US-unleashed nuclear immolation consumes us all — or ecocide does the same thing longer-term because friends of the earth lack power to save it.

Militant US/UK hostility toward Russia threatens everyone, most people unaware of what risks possible nuclear war because media fail to warn of the clear and present danger.
