"911 - In Plane Site," the most controversial video documentary ever produced about 9/11, aired on Australia's "TEN" television network in May 2006. For one and a half hours, hundreds of thousands of Australians were mesmerized and shocked by images of the 9/11 attacks that to this day had never been seen by the public. It is reported that the network has received more response from the airing of "911 In Plane Site" than in recent history." www.911inplanesite.com

Network executives are scrambling to meet the demands of callers that jammed the phone lines and requested a re-airing of the documentary. According to a network programming spokesperson, the overwhelming majority of calls were positive and viewers thanked the network for airing the program.
