Col. Daniel Davis talks with MIT Professor Ted Postol about the possibility of a tactical nuclear explosion dropped by Israel into Syria.

According to Prof. Postol:

My concern has been and continues to be that people do not have a real appreciation for the seriousness of what a nuclear confrontation could be.

Nuclear weapons involve nuclear phenomenon that is completely beyond the normal human experience.

It is very important to graphically understand in some detail the effects associated with nuclear weapons.

In the video below, Prof. Postol shows evidence that it was not a nuclear explosion and expands on the features of nuclear explosions that are completely different than what most people think they understand.

We may disagree with several of the political statements, the initial presentation provides some of the important features of nuclear weapons, which distinguish them from conventional weapons, first 38 minutes.

Reviews

“This book is a ‘must’ resource – a richly documented and systematic diagnosis of the supremely pathological geo-strategic planning of US wars since ‘9-11’ against non-nuclear countries to seize their oil fields and resources under cover of ‘freedom and democracy’.”

-John McMurtry, Professor of Philosophy, Guelph University

“In a world where engineered, pre-emptive, or more fashionably “humanitarian” wars of aggression have become the norm, this challenging book may be our final wake-up call.”

-Denis Halliday, Former Assistant Secretary General of the United Nations

Michel Chossudovsky exposes the insanity of our privatized war machine. Iran is being targeted with nuclear weapons as part of a war agenda built on distortions and lies for the purpose of private profit. The real aims are oil, financial hegemony and global control. The price could be nuclear holocaust. When weapons become the hottest export of the world’s only superpower, and diplomats work as salesmen for the defense industry, the whole world is recklessly endangered. If we must have a military, it belongs entirely in the public sector. No one should profit from mass death and destruction.

-Ellen Brown, author of ‘Web of Debt’ and president of the Public Banking Institute
