"No amount of weapons or ammunition the US and its allies provide to Ukraine will be enough unless Kiev wins", Ukraine Foreign Minister Dmitry Kuleba said on Monday [19 June 2023], during an interview with Ukrainian television.

"When we win, I'll say 'there were enough weapons.' But until then, nothing will be enough, however much they send, because if there is no victory, that means it was not enough," Kuleba said. See this.

The Zelensky team is setting the stage for "eternal war", as the West seems to be committed to do whatever Zelensky says and wants. Zelensky has elevated himself to the Master of the Western world.

Hundreds of billions of Western people's tax money go into weaponry and "budget support" to the most corrupt country of the planet to fight a war that is unwinnable - all under the pretext of weakening Russia and ultimately to achieving regime change, to steal and dominate Russia's resources, Russia's riches — and to get one step closer to a One World Order.

It will not happen

Imagine, what Western nations could do for their ever-more impoverished people as they, western governments, are destroying, suicide-like, Western economies? It is part of UN Agenda 2030 and/or the Great Reset. They are religiously following the blueprint of these disastrous plans and carrying them out. The wanton destruction of Western economies is part of it. And people are miserably lied about it.

Western governments for years, for decades have not represented the people who "elected them" or more precisely, who believe they elected them, because, yes, they the people, do pay for their unworthy government's wages and upper-echelon life style.

The world has reached an untenable situation

Totally unsustainable and this in the age of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG), i.e., UN Agenda 2030, precisely the agenda that is aiming at “resetting” the world, into a fraction of the current population, converting the survivors to mind-manipulable transhumans via the deadly ultra-shortwaves 5G and soon to come 6G, and with remote directed Artificial Intelligence (AI), making them feel happy, as all their possessions have been stolen, eliminated, gone - by programmable Central Bank Digital Currency (CBDC).

And the tyranny goes on to total control mechanisms through digital certificates of everything from forced vaccination, to a fully loaded QR code-based ID that includes all personal data, from health, to eating habits, to carbon footprint, criminal records, to personal attitudes, compliance willingness - and especially an individual’s behavior towards “climate change” - which may go as far as 15-minute cities, or no cars for paupers, the regular people, no flying for the commons, nothing that could be said to infringe on the so-unbelievably falsified climate record.

A modern “lockdown” forever as soon as we are in digital prison. This may happen sooner than we think, if We, the People let it happen. And, with what we know today, it is literally irreversible. Once we are there, we are cooked. So, let us prevent the “being forced to go there.”

It seems most people still have not grasped this. They are happily looking forward to an all-digitized life with especially digitized money. So easy. No cash. Swipe a card, bingo.

Yes, bingo - and you are hand-cuffed and do not even notice it.

We are at this breaking point, where all comes together and could result in an immense explosion - or implosion, where things and events take over, without AI and without the possibility of human interference, the possibility of stopping a worldwide annihilation.

Let us look at the panorama and connect the dots:

- For the last week or so, and ongoing, there is (yet to be confirmed) a military mobilization taking place in the US and Canada; no official explanation.
- On Saturday, 17 June, Antony Blinken, US Secretary of State met with Chinese leader, Xi Jinping behind closed doors. Despite their default statement of “constructive discussions”, their body language, when meeting the press after their one-on-one conference, tells a different story. A key issue of their discussion may have been Taiwan. The West wants to dominate Taiwan for strategic and technological reasons.

That will not happen.

NATO’s largest ever air maneuver around Russia has been ongoing for over a week and is supposed to end on 23 June. Will it? Or may it convert into a hot war? A legit question with all the converging events that seem to be pushing to a political unmanageable climax.

Western debt, exacerbated by the billions soon trillions of money shoved down into a dark Ukraine hole, is at the verge of collapsing Western economies. The Western banking system is at the brink of bankruptcy - man-made bankruptcy - because it fits in well with the plan of eradicating national debt and introducing the all-controlling CBDC.

The unelected European Commission (EC) and the corrupted Rockefeller-Gates-Pharma-run World Health Organization (WHO) have just announced adopting a joined fully digitized vaxx certificate and ID - which would be the basis for every citizen to move around freely, or not so freely, depending on how well his/her QR coded-ID and vaxx certificates are kept up-to-date, according to mandated rules.

Remember, with the beginning of the 2020 decade, we have entered an era of lawlessness, no more international laws, but elite made “rules-based orders”. There will no longer be judges, whose verdicts are based on international law. They are banned, not allowed, or outright threatened.

On the dangers of the CBDC and the all-present QR code, see this and this.

The universal drive towards central bank digital currencies, emanates most likely from the Bank for International Settlements (BIS), the Central Bank of all central banks, controlling at least 90% of central banks around the globe, and the BIS, itself, being controlled by the Rothschild family.

As we see, all is in best-intended private hands, perfectly aligned with the fraudulently established 1913 Federal Reserve Act - that has allowed the US to create a US dollar hegemony around the world; first with the dollar replacing gold as key reserve asset, second, as all hydrocarbon had to be traded by OPEC in US dollars, a Washington imposition; and thirdly, all international trade, no matter between which countries, was to be carried out until recently in US dollars.

Most of this is faltering and stands now at a breaking point.

India may be a monetary precursor for the West.

What if the 2016 Indian government's - a USAID-imposed project - abruptly wiping out the nation's most important bank notes, the 500- and 1,000-rupee notes, representing 87% of the total cash in circulation, was just a trial for what might happen in the west?

See this.

A similar move is taking place now with the Reserve Bank of India (RBI, equivalent to India's Central Bank), announcing in May 2023 the RBI will be withdrawing Rs 2,000 notes from circulation as part of the “clean note policy”, a pretext to reduce cash and convert India gradually into an all-digitized currency country.

During India's 2016 abolishing of more than 80% of all cash, tens of thousands if not hundreds of thousands of people, especially in the countryside, with no access to banks and cash, suddenly had no money, could not buy food; many perished.

What if, on behalf of Ukraine, always on behalf of Ukraine, NATO makes a wrong move before or after June 23, leading to a provoked counterattack by Russia, possibly nuclear - leading to a hot WWIII, causing “shortages” of everything, especially food and energy?

Simultaneously, the EC and possibly also the US FED may stop or reduce cash to a minimum and introduce and impose programmable CBDC on the Western population. Cash may be gone but the commercial system has not adapted yet to the new digital currency. Food is in short supply, and the little there is, cannot be bought, due to lack of money, same with energy.

A tremendous famine may ensue, on top of the war, with communications and transportation breakdown, due to lack of energy.

In addition, hacking and cyberattacks may become the order of the day – test runs have already happened and are happening as these lines are going to print; people may die like flies. All over the West.

This is a bleak picture – we must avoid it. And we can: waking up and thinking positive

The WEF's Great Reset, WHO's enslaving digitized vaxx certificate, and the UN's Agenda 2030 might smile in satisfaction, having reached their objective way before the 2030 target date. This is indeed their intention, as they must beat the awakening masses of people.

This horror scenario shall not happen.

Because we the People, will not allow it. If we are awake, we may project our own future, spiritually shaping it – in our minds, disregarding the diabolical machinations. It is never too late, preparing our own sources of food, sources of energy – and our own civilization.

It is a challenge, but the human mind and spirit can master it. And WE WILL.

Away from tyranny.

However, first we must see and recognize the sword of tyranny hovering over our heads.
