Perhaps you have had an epiphany that WE, the sane, the rational, the intelligent and the reasonable, now endure within a populist stupidity that is propagated by a worldwide theatre of journalistic lies, endemic media propaganda, agendized disinformation and government-mandated ignorance?

Worse. We, whose minds – and conscience – still demand an informed and developed opinion based on established facts, are surrounded by a growing majority that embraces, instead, this demand for willful ignorance.

We are told that their irrational mind is ... better.

Vindication of the Alternative Journalist

As reality comes to light in the minds of the previously dulled regarding the 2020 US presidential election, COVID-19, and the Ukraine war, 95% of all media; radio, TV, mainstream and alternative news and all of social media are today mere apologists for their years of lies thus exposed.

All of them – almost all- so willfully prostituted their conscience and sacrificed the true tenets of quality journalism onto the pyre of authoritarian censorship. Simply speaking, they lied.

It is publications such this journal that maintained an allegiance to factual, provable journalism by providing a platform for the very few authors who dedicated themselves to the best reporting standards but were marginalized almost universally. Today, those too few publications and their stables of journalists have gone from vilification to vindication.

It was far too small cadres of Winston Smiths that stood up to ridicule this mental oppression and censorship. All of these few are the only media sources that can today stand tall as the facts we presented then are now the true, “settled science.”

Yet none of us get paid much if anything. Donations are rare. We are hated and reviled. But we and the publications that feature our work are proven, again and again... right!

Vindicated after some four years are the true champions of great journalism. Like Mike Whitney, Naomi Wolf, Pepe Escobar, Kevin Barrett, Eric Zuesse, Rich Scheck and too few others that are omitted in this list only due to brevity. Those of us who refused to allow our minds or those of our readers to become confused.

When the names of these luminaries finally have their by-lines grace the headlines of the mainstream media (MSM) and are nominated for the media awards that their bodies of work deserve, then the world will finally be...better.

After authoring, in 2020, a multi-part series that reported factually on the seven state machinations of a very “fiddled with” 2020 presidential election, this journalist was one of those very few whose publishers/editors had the balls to present my bombshell reporting to a public desperately looking for details immediately before and after election night. At the time I, like my brothers in arms, was utterly excoriated. The breadth of mainstream and alternative media demanded that I think...better.

However, today my thinking has not changed. Like the other champions, my work and education are now vindicated! The unimaginable Biden impeachment has begun and more information is coming out daily.

With the 2024 US presidential election already developing a nasty acrid, bile-like taste at the back of the tongue, and with the DNC emboldened after repeating their election manipulations in the 2022 mid-term (see: Arizona and Pennsylvania) my interest in this upcoming episode of the macabre spectacle of American Monocracy is again far too much to ignore. More to come on that.

But first, a short review of my 2020 reporting may be of interest as a necessary primer to: “2024: What are the Democrats going to pull this time?”

The 2020 election series began, along with my interest, after the Monday night massacre of democracy that saw all the DNC candidates for president, except Sanders, implicated in rigging the Iowa caucus for Biden on Monday, Feb 3, 2020. This was some serious fiddling on the opening night of the new 2020 campaign. Such was Part One of the series. [\[LINK\]](#) Of course, this prelude to Nov 6 - and Jan 6- was tossed off by the MSM as a “computer glitch.”

With funny business afoot, and Biden running his campaign in absentia, I authored an expose on the US Electoral College and how it really worked and might be used. Further, I anticipated that this election would be brought before the State and Federal Electoral Colleges for certification, but under popular voter duress.

As shown, the Electoral College is and was- or could have been- on Jan 6, 2021, a very powerful tool of democracy in a political system that routinely operates as a monocracy. One needs only to review the impeachment of Texas Attorney General by Republicans for violating the Blue State New World Order oozing from mind addled Austin; or Republican House Speaker, Kevin McCarthy’s tepid response to investigating presidential treason and influence peddling and cover-up by democrats.

By these standards, would the 1972 Nixon Watergate cover-up even make the papers today?

Next came my reporting of the Hunter Biden laptop revelations. If not for the most massive and collective US media conspiracy to defraud the American voter of this vital knowledge two weeks before the election, this would have certainly blown the Biden campaign out of the water in Hillary 2016 fashion. [\[LINK\]](#)

It would have also given every US elector in the State and Federal Electoral Colleges a very sound reason for refusing to cast their personal electoral ballot for Biden. Had the laptop story been given the coverage, then, that it is getting today, would the protests in DC on Jan 6 have been viewed very differently by a much larger swath of outraged American voters? Absolutely.

"Conspiracy theorist," was the nicest accusation that came my way for that series. Even my favorite editor told me very directly that he had "Zero," interest in 2020 election fraud coverage. But he published my series out of respect for the quality of reporting past and present. [\[LINK\]](#) [\[LINK\]](#) [\[LINK\]](#)

In the same article, I was also one of the very first journalists to release links to the huge dossier of information and documents alleging a direct link of Biden to his son's payola scheme in China. Why it took two-and-a-half years for this treasonous connection to get public/congressional attention is, of course, a rhetorical question.

Next, I examined the Dominion voting machines and showed how they were, and had been, susceptible to fraud. [\[LINK\]](#)

For the record: the Fox News settlement with Dominion was no more than pabulum for the willfully ignorant. Just by applying a normal procedural litigation standard, there were many problems with Fox settling so easily, so willingly and so damn quickly.

Until proof is provided that the purported $787.5 million settlement check cleared to Dominion's offshore bank account, this MSM insult only further highlights the cover-up and why the media had to again demand that the voter think...better.

Next, I authored an expose on how the seven key states in play during the vote count had used COVID-19 as a rationale to unconstitutionally- per state law- issue, without request, mail-in ballots to all registered voters and more. Of course, subsequently, I reported on the ballot dumping, robo-signings, verification problems, ballot machine programming problems and missing personal and video surveillance of the ballot tabulations. [\[LINK\]](#)

In total, this was fiddling of the highest order. All were ignored by MSM and alternative media until recently.

Finally, as the whole mess predictably was thrust before SCOTUS again my reporting and observations were substantially correct, but with one historic exception: Despite Justice Alito issuing emergency rulings in Pennsylvania regarding the unconstitutional mail-in ballots (a trick repeated in many states) and with strong wording very favorable to the Trump campaign, in the end the full US Supreme Court failed to provide a ruling at all, and merely

punted.[\[LINK\]](#)

Reports have it that Chief Justice Roberts did scream at his colleagues that if they ruled otherwise the nation would reel into violence. An abrogation of jurisprudence of the highest order.

However, again the majority of the willfully ignorant refused to look beyond the curtain of their singular daily news offering. The media's mandate of ignorance about questioning the validity of the 2020 election, was all too easily accepted by the vast majority of voters as being ...better!

"Where are Woodward and Bernstein when we need them."

Next, the world was victimized by the greatest scam in human history- Covid-19.

The few remaining rational minds recoiled in horror at witnessing so many people who seemed also sane, rational, and reasonable, but instead so willingly cast aside the real science presented by Nobel prize-winning clinicians, world-renowned health scientists and the very creators of the MRNA tests and vaccines themselves.

For three years this stupidity reigned, favoring the charlatans of mainstream media and their experts lurking behind the sideshow. Facts were trumped by the media's purported "settled science" and the fools who blindly believed it. This worldwide ignorance saluted mental retardation as being... better.

I found this willful ignorance abhorrent and divorced my body and my mind from this malignant disease. Like the Polar bear, I don't do particularly well in captivity, so I continually escaped; going from the USA to the UK to Amsterdam to Curacao to Aruba to Colombia to Florida seeking freedom.

So, me and my allegiance to personal and mental liberty remained intact while great independent journalists like Dr. Gary G. Kohl, Dr. Peter McCullough, Dr. Robert Malone, Colin Todhunter, Joseph Mercola, Michel Chossudovsky and too few others so valiantly took up the torch to document and dissect the global lie featured as COVID-19.

All met a similar fate of outrage for their bold reporting and for factually breaking the MSM narrative with excellent supported facts. Today they too have also been completely vindicated.

Their vindication grows weekly as reports from across the globe continue to break through the MSM filters with new revelations that COVID-19 and particularly the western versions of the vaccines were another American-created barbarity on the conscience of man.

My colleague in these pages, former Assistant Secretary of the US Treasury, Dr. Paul Craig Roberts recently bemoaned, "Where are Woodward and Bernstein when we need them."

Oh, we are here, Mr. Roberts!

And, for obvious reasons, not one of us works for the Washington Post. All of us refuse to think...better.

2022 brought a new American-borne horror. Western media lies now morphed into a subsequently more heinous genocidal lie: The Ukraine war.

With the very real threat of thermonuclear war seemingly being forced on an innocent world via American and British allegiance to hegemony rather than diplomacy, and using the MSM allegiance to revisionist history regarding the matter, there was only one thing for a GOOD journalist to do...get your ass to Ukraine!

On-scene reporting is my specialty when I can afford it. Why? Because in a world of what should be Black and White or simply Right vs. Wrong, western controlled media and its allegiance to THE BIG LIE, force the mind to consider only every proffered shade of media grey.

We are told that this grey is... better!

Thankfully, those Western media lies were again first penetrated by the very few journalists who quickly got to Ukraine and who still ascribe to the true tenets of old-school journalism. On-scene reporting provides the facts only found by being there. Reporting that is undeniable. A wedge, a knife point, a quill's nib thus thrust directly into the frontal lobes of those who strangely prefer proffered ignorance and legitimized stupidity.

On-scene reporting proved that, once again mainstream and alternative media was lying to the public about- at the least- the neo-Nazi sympathies of the Ukrainian Gov't and its military factions, the on-the-ground realities, and the past history and ulterior motives of the perimeter countries involved. [\[LINK\]](#) [\[LINK\]](#) [\[LINK\]](#) [\[LINK\]](#) [\[LINK\]](#)

Today, few journalists would have the hypocrisy to deny the neo-Nazi connection. However, eighteen months ago, almost all of them did.

So, here we are. A new presidential election is upon us and both the incumbent and the front-runner are looking at some quality time in the White House. The RNC and the DNC are currently like a virgin in a whorehouse: Not sure which wrong door to open next, and desperately praying for a way out. Trump v Biden? Again?

Of one thing, however, the US voter can be assured: nothing that comes from the 2024 election will be ...better.

The War... For Your Mind!

There is war all around us.

It is NOT the war for territory. It is NOT the war for unlimited profits. It is NOT the war for information.

It is the war to steal forever- YOUR MIND!!

There is only one truth: truth based on proven facts. All facts, by definition, must always make themselves available to the intelligent examination of their ongoing validity, i.e. open public debate encouraging informed opinion via education. All else is utter ignorance. Willful ignorance that eliminates factual discussion is, by this definition: stupidity.

The results of ignorance and stupidity worldwide are killing us all. We cannot ever allow ourselves to believe these minds to be... better.

If you are reading these lines then you have found one of the few quality news agencies remaining. One that champions quality journalism. One that needs no apology. One that got its facts straight, right from the start by supporting excellent and vindicated journalists.

When you dare to know in your heart, the truth, one need not think... better.

In the dramatic and horrifying final scene of the All-Star film version of George Orwell's book, "1984," Winston Smith is being tortured by O'Brien. Smith's crime...?: "Thoughtcrime."

Winston Smith, wracked with pain and under inquisition, must learn to think correctly. To conform. To adjust his mind.

To think...better!

"BETTER?", 1984 - Youtube

What say you now, dear reader, to... "better?"
